

Paint Colors

The family center has books of approved exterior paint color combinations available for checkout by residents. The family center has no record of interior paint colors used. As long as the exterior paint colors of your home don't change, painting doesn't require approval from the Homeowners Association. Adams County Community Development has a program that helps low and middle-income families maintain the exterior of their homes. for more information

